- v) Details will be taken of the caller and the issue concerned
- vi) Within 2 working days, the member concerned will receive a call back, either from the relevant FTO/FTSS or from somebody directed by the relevant FTO/FTSS to do so
- vii) It is impossible to prescribe the nature of these return calls, however, at the very least, the call will advise the member about how best their query or problem might be resolved and, if necessary, the member may be referred to their local Branch representative. In the latter case, the member will be provided with the relevant contact details. Primary responsibility for service delivery rests with the FTOs and FTSS. Members who are dissatisfied with service by local Branch representatives may revert to the FTO or FTSS (in some cases, it needs to be recognised that local Branch representatives are the most appropriate contact and that the role of the FTO/FTSS may be limited).
- viii) In circumstances where the FTO/FTSS advises that contact with the employer and/or a third party is required, the member will be given an idea of the likely timescale involved and will be given an idea when they can expect to receive word from the FTO/FTSS on progress
- ix) A log will be kept of returned calls with details of the advice/information offered.

CONTACT BY EMAIL

 - i) There shall be contact email address(es) for the exclusive use of members
 - ii) A member shall be expected, in making email contact, to provide their name, details of employer and details of the query/problem
 - iii) Every day, emails received at the relevant email address(es) will be forwarded to the relevant FTO/FTSS
 - iv) Within two working days, the relevant FTO/FTSS shall reply to emails received. Such replies to the member(s) concerned shall be directed via the contact email address, to which the email concerned was addressed

- v) All email correspondence through the contact email address(es) will be retained until the issue/query raised has been brought to a conclusion
- vi) It is impossible to prescribe the nature of email replies but all replies will advise member(s) how best their query/problem might be resolved. In some cases, this may mean referring the member to the local Branch representative, in which case contact details will be provided to the member. Primary responsibility for service delivery rests with the FTOs and FTSS. Members who are dissatisfied with service by local Branch representatives may revert to the FTO or FTSS (in some cases, it needs to be recognised that local Branch representatives are the most appropriate contact and that the role of the FTO/FTSS may be limited).
- vii) Where the response suggests a need to contact the relevant employer and/or a third party, the member will be advised of the likely timescale involved and will be given an idea of when they can expect word from the FTO/FTSS on progress

CONTACT BY POST

- 6 i) Letters sent to the union by members will be logged
- ii) All correspondence will be passed to the relevant FTO/FTSS on the day that it is received.
- iii) A reply will be issued to the member within five working days
- iv) A log will be kept of correspondence to members
- v) Where the reply to a member refers the member to the relevant Branch representative, contact details will be provided.

OVERSIGHT

- 7 A senior official in the union shall be assigned to ensure that the timeframes set out above are met. Any member who is dissatisfied with the service received may write to the senior official involved, who will, if he/she deems it necessary, investigate the complaint.

EXCEPTIONS

- 8 The timeframes set out above shall be the norms that members can expect. It is recognised that exceptional circumstances can arise e.g. a 'write in' by a large number of members. In such circumstances, it is accepted that it would not be reasonable to expect that the time limits set out would, or could, be met. It is recognised also that due to the temporary absence, (e.g. annual leave), of the relevant FTO/FTSS, it may not always be possible to give a reasoned response to queries/issues in the timeframes set out.

However, when an FTO or FTSS is absent, they will arrange with their line manager to have 'cover' provided by a colleague. In such cases, it is acknowledged that there is a higher likelihood that any communications with members will refer them to local representatives or that they will advise members to await the return of the relevant FTO/FTSS. In such cases, the member will be provided with the contact details of the relevant line manager, should they not be in a position to await the return of the relevant FTO/FTSS.

OMBUDSMAN

- 9 The new union will appoint an outside Ombudsman to deal with complaints by members or Branches of the Union. Such complaints can include failure to meet the time lines set out in this document. Any such complaints must be referred to the senior official referred to in 7 above in the first instance and only after that senior official has indicated that he/she has finished with the complaint. Any inordinate delay on the part of the senior official may, itself, be referred to the Ombudsman for investigation. In cases where the senior official has finished with a complaint, the referral to the Ombudsman shall be an appeal against the finding of the senior official to the effect that the conclusion reached by the senior official was not justified by the facts or that the senior official did not take adequate steps to rectify the problem brought to attention. The senior official's actions in response to a complaint shall, therefore, be the basis for appeal to the Ombudsman and it shall be a matter for the senior official to respond to the complaint referred to the Ombudsman.

BRANCH COMPLAINTS

10 In accordance with the existing practice in the three amalgamating unions, any Branch that wishes to make a complaint regarding service provided by an FTO or FTSS may do so, in writing, to the General Secretary. Groups of members with service complaints regarding an FTO or FTSS more generally may make such complaints through their local Branch. If the Branch is agreeable they may forward such complaints to the General Secretary. A complaint to the Ombudsman by a Branch may only be made when the General Secretary has indicated that he/she has finished with the complaint. Any inordinate delay on the part of the General Secretary in dealing with such a complaint may, itself, be referred to the Ombudsman for investigation. A referral to the Ombudsman shall be based on the General Secretary's actions in response to a complaint and it shall be a matter for the General Secretary, or an official appointed by the General Secretary for the purpose, to respond to the complaint referred to the Ombudsman. The referral of a decision of the General Secretary to the Ombudsman may be made on the grounds that the decision of the General Secretary was not justified by the facts or that the actions of the General Secretary were an insufficient response to the issue raised.

GROUPS

11 Groups of members within a Branch may make a complaint to the senior official referred to in 7 above if they believe that the time limits set out in this document have not been met. Groups of members with service complaints regarding an FTO or FTSS more generally may make such complaints through their local Branch. Should the Branch be agreeable to do so, they may choose to forward such complaints to the General Secretary, in accordance with 10 above.

COMPLAINTS AGAINST LOCAL REPRESENTATIVES

12 It is recognised that the union is a voluntary organisation, hugely dependent on the volunteers who act as local representatives. It is not reasonable to expect voluntary representatives, who combine their role with working for their employer, to meet the tight time frames set out above.

Any member or members who are unhappy with the service provided by local representatives should, in the first instance, raise the issue with the relevant FTO or FTSS. If the member(s) concerned are unhappy with the outcome, they may refer the matter to the senior official referred to in 7 above. If the matter is not resolved at that stage, the member(s) concerned may refer the issue to the General Secretary, who shall call for a report from the local representative, the relevant FTO/FTSS and the senior officer referred to in 7 above. The General Secretary may then investigate the complaint. The General Secretary shall issue a response to the complaint, following investigation. Complainants may refer the General Secretary's decision to the Ombudsman on the grounds that the decision reached was not justified by the facts or that the actions taken by the General Secretary were an insufficient response to the issue raised.

REPORTING

13 The senior official referred to at 7 above shall report to the biennial conference detailing the number of complaints, the number upheld and, where he/she deems it useful to do so, the follow up actions. Nothing in these reports shall be capable of identifying individuals.

The Ombudsman shall produce a report to the biennial conference and may make recommendations regarding service delivery. Nothing in this report shall be capable of identifying individuals.

REVIEW

14 The amalgamated union will keep the processes and timelines set out in this document under continuous review, with particular regard to any recommendations from the Ombudsman.

APPENDIX 3 - RULES & INSTRUMENT OF AMALGAMATION (REVISION 2 AS AMENDED BY THE NEC 22ND JANUARY 2020)

DISCIPLINARY ACTION PROCEDURES

1. COMPLAINTS AGAINST MEMBERS

- 1.1. This Annex to the rules sets out the process which shall be used to deal with complaints made by member(s) against (an) other member(s).
- 1.2. Any confidentiality requirements that may be expressed or implied under this Annex are subject to the limitation that the Union may be required, by law, to report an allegation or the outcome of an investigation to an external body.

DISCIPLINARY COMMITTEE

- 1.3. The Union shall have a Disciplinary Committee. This Committee shall consist of the President, the Vice-President and seven other members of the Executive Committee appointed by the Executive Committee from amongst its members. The Disciplinary Committee shall be appointed by the Executive Committee as soon as may be convenient subsequent to the Annual Delegate Conference and shall hold Office until the conclusion of the ensuing Annual Delegate Conference.
- 1.4. The Executive Committee shall fill any vacancy arising among the members of the Disciplinary Committee from amongst its members as soon as may be convenient. In the event that the Executive Committee is satisfied that a member of the Disciplinary Committee is not prepared or able to fulfil the functions of a member of the Disciplinary Committee through non-attendance at meetings of the Disciplinary Committee, the Executive Committee may replace this member by another member of the Executive Committee. In the event that a member of the Disciplinary Committee has a direct involvement in a complaint to be considered by that Committee, whether as a complainant or the person complained of or as a witness or otherwise, or is otherwise subject to a conflict of interest in respect of a particular complaint (whether actual or perceived), this matter shall be reported to the Executive Committee by the General Secretary and the member in question shall be replaced by the Executive Committee by another member of the Executive Committee for the purposes of the investigation of the case in question. The quorum for a meeting of the Disciplinary Committee shall be 50%.

- 1.5. The Chairperson of the Disciplinary Committee shall be the President, or in his/her absence, the Vice-President, or in the absence of both, a person appointed by the Committee to act as Chairperson.
- 1.6. The Disciplinary Committee shall have no function other than the functions set out in this Annex.
- 1.7. The General Secretary shall act as Secretary to the Disciplinary Committee, shall attend all meetings of the Committee and keep such records of the Committee as are appropriate. The General Secretary may nominate another Official to act as Secretary of the Disciplinary Committee - either on a continuing basis or for a particular case. Where another Official is nominated to act as Secretary of the Committee, he/she shall carry out the functions assigned to the General Secretary in this Annex. Where the General Secretary has a direct involvement in a complaint to be considered by that Committee, whether as a complainant or the person complained of or as a witness or otherwise, the General Secretary shall nominate another Official who has no such involvement to act as Secretary of the Committee for the case in question.

For the avoidance of doubt where timelines are set out in this procedure they are set out in 'working days'.

A COMPLAINT

- 1.8. Any Member or any Branch Committee ("complainant") may make a complaint against a member to the effect that that member ("respondent") has engaged in an action or activity which is a breach of the Rules of the Union or is otherwise conduct injurious to the interests of the Union or its members. (Conduct deemed to be injurious to the interest of the union shall include the failure to act in accordance with the instructions of the Executive Committee during the course of an industrial dispute).

From time to time disagreements may take place between members, within Branches, Committees etc. These may be brought to the attention of senior elected representatives and full-time officials to deal with but they do not necessarily constitute complaints that come within the meaning of Rule 27 and the Disciplinary Procedure. Ultimately, it may fall to a sub-group of the Disciplinary Committee to decide on whether or not a prima facie case exists for a complaint to be investigated under this Procedure (see 1.12)

The complainant and the respondent shall be known, collectively, as "the parties". Any such complaint shall be made in writing to the General Secretary, or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose and shall specify the precise nature of the action and/or activity which is the source of the complaint and must be made within 60 working days of the alleged action or activity

A member laying a complaint must clearly show how the matter satisfies the above description and provide evidence to support the complaint in a potential investigation. Hearsay and uncorroborated allegations are insufficient grounds to substantiate a complaint under the Procedure. In practice a valid complaint should consist of the following

- Be clearly set out in writing and addressed to the General Secretary
- Identify what Rule (s) of the union has been infringed
- State what behaviour or action is being alleged
- Explain how that action/behaviour infringes the cited Rule(s) and/or is injurious to the interests of the union or its members.
- Clarify what physical evidence, if any, can be provided to substantiate the complaint
- Identify any witness or witnesses who may come forward to substantiate the complaint.

It should be noted that Rule 27 and the Disciplinary Procedure may be invoked where a member complained against believes the complaint, if not upheld, was vexatious (Cause 1.36).

- 1.9. On receipt of a complaint, the General Secretary, or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose, shall notify the respondent(s) of the complaint and, also, the source of same. The General Secretary, or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose, shall seek to resolve the matter informally within 20 working days of receipt of the complaint. If the General Secretary, or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose, believes that an extension of this time will assist in a resolution, the parties shall be so advised and the permission of the Disciplinary Committee shall be sought for an extension of a further 20 working days. A request for such permission shall not include any details of the complaint.

For there to be an informal resolution both parties must be willing to engage in the process and during this stage of the Procedure only a brief summary of the complaint will be circulated to the parties and the Committee. Should an informal resolution be secured the case will be closed and no record of the complaint filed.

- 1.10. In the event that it is not possible to resolve the matter informally, the General Secretary, or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose, shall refer the complaint to the Disciplinary Committee which shall meet to consider same. The Committee may, if it considers it necessary, ask the complainant(s) to clarify allegations that are to be the subject of the investigation. The Disciplinary Committee shall meet no later than 20 working days following receipt of a complaint.
- 1.11. The Disciplinary Committee, may, if it receives a complaint or complaints against more than one member, which it considers to be the same complaint, or essentially the same complaint, or a number of complaints against a member and if this appears to be practicable, treat the complaints collectively as one complaint for the purposes of this Rule. However, any outcome of the procedures set out in this Annex for individual members shall be stated in the form of outcomes for individual members.

PRELIMINARY ASSESSMENT OF COMPLAINT

- 1.12. The Disciplinary Committee shall appoint two of its members to examine any complaint and determine whether there appears to be a prima facie basis for the complaint which, if it were established, could constitute a material or deliberate breach of the Rules of the Union or is otherwise conduct injurious to the interests of the Union or the members. Save in exceptional circumstances, the two people concerned should reach their conclusions within 20 working days of the matter being referred to them. In the event that they deem it necessary, they may make a request to the Disciplinary Committee for an extension of this time.
- 1.13. In the event that these two members of the Disciplinary Committee conclude that there is such a prima facie basis for the complaint, the General Secretary, or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose, shall notify the complainant(s) of that decision and the complaint shall proceed in accordance with this Annex. Save in exceptional circumstances, the General Secretary or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose, shall issue this notification within 5 working days of receipt of the conclusion reached under 1.12 above.
- 1.14. In the event that these two members of the Disciplinary Committee conclude that there is not such a prima facie basis for the complaint, the General Secretary, or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose, shall notify the complainant(s) of the decision not to proceed to investigation and no further action will be taken by the Disciplinary Committee unless this decision is appealed. Save in exceptional circumstances, the General Secretary, or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose, shall issue this notification within 5 working days of receipt of the conclusion reached under 1.12 above.
- 1.15. In notifying the complainant(s) of such decision, the General Secretary, or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose, shall advise them of their right to appeal same to the full Disciplinary Committee.
- 1.16. Where the complainant(s) object to this decision, they shall be free to appeal same to the full Disciplinary Committee. Any such appeal must be received by the General Secretary, or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose, within 10 working days of the date of the notification of the original decision to the complainant(s). The basis of the appeal shall be set out in the notice of appeal.
- 1.17. In the event of such an appeal, the respondent(s) shall be advised of the fact of the appeal and the basis for same and shall be invited to comment on same in writing. Comments should be limited to the issue of whether or not there is a prima facie basis to proceed. Any such comment must be received by the General Secretary within 10 working days of the date of the notification to the respondent(s).
- 1.18. The appeal shall be determined by a meeting of the Disciplinary Committee which shall not be attended by the two members of that Committee who took the original decision. Any decision of the Disciplinary Committee on the appeal of a preliminary assessment of a complaint shall be final. The Disciplinary Committee shall make its determination within 20 working days of receipt of the correspondence referred to in 1.16 and 1.17 above or it should advise the parties within that time if it is unable to do so and, if so, why is this the case.
- 1.19. Where the Disciplinary Committee (or sub-group where there is no appeal) decides there is not a prima facie basis to a complaint it may opt in setting out its decision to recommend to the parties that the issues raised warrant administrative intervention outside of the Disciplinary Procedure and Rule. Issues such as disagreements and disputes within Committees, Branches etc. of an organisational nature may best be resolved by an administrative conciliation process the outcome of which may be reported to the NEC for decision.
- 1.20. Where the Disciplinary Committee (or sub- group where there is no appeal) deems there is a prima facie case to a complaint it may offer mediation to both parties through a mediator external to the Divisions involved. Mediation can only take place with the agreement of both parties. Any mediation effort must conclude within 20 working days of its commencement (Clause 1.23).
- 1.21. The General Secretary, or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose, shall advise the parties, in writing, of the outcome of the appeal within 5 working days of that outcome.

RIGHT TO REPRESENTATION

1.22. At any stage of the process set out in this Rule where one or other of the parties is involved in a meeting, he/she may be accompanied by a colleague, friend or fellow member of the Union. The function of this person shall be to support and assist the party concerned. Not more than one person may accompany a party. It shall not be deemed appropriate for the accompanying person to seek to answer questions posed to a party on behalf of the party concerned. In order to minimise delays in dealing with the complaint, where the person due to accompany a party to a meeting under this Annex is unable to be present for such meeting and the party wishes to have a person accompanying him or her to a meeting, the Mediator, Investigator or Disciplinary Committee, as the case maybe, may request the party involved to arrange for another person to accompany him or her to the meeting.

MEDIATION STAGE

1.23. The Disciplinary Committee may, if it considers that the nature of the complaint is such that a mediated solution might be a possibility, propose to the parties that they should engage with an mediator external to the Division(s) of the parties, nominated by the Disciplinary Committee, with a view to reaching a resolution of the complaint. It shall be a matter for the parties to the complaint to decide whether to attempt a mediated solution or otherwise. Mediation can only take place with the agreement of all parties. It must not be used as a delaying tactic by any party and, if agreed to, must be utilised in good faith. Unless agreed otherwise by both parties, mediation will conclude within 20 working days. Either party may withdraw from mediation at any point.

INVESTIGATION STAGE

1.24. In the event that a mediated solution is not possible, the Disciplinary Committee shall appoint an official external to the Division(s) of the parties to the complaint ("Investigator") to examine the complaint. This appointment shall be notified in the correspondence referred to in 1.21 above. This appointment shall, save in exceptional circumstances, be made within 20 working days of it being identified that mediation is not possible. The Investigator shall meet with the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) and any witnesses which either of them may wish to bring forward, along with any relevant documentation they wish to produce. The Investigator shall provide all the information obtained from the complainants and the witnesses in the course of the investigation to the respondent.

1.25. In the event that either party maintains that, in order to protect his rights in the investigation, it is essential that he/she be permitted to ask questions of any witness or of the other party in the course of the investigation, that party shall provide a written statement setting out the basis of which he/she considers that this would be necessary to protect his/her rights. In the event that the Investigator agrees to provide this facility, the party involved may ask questions of any witness interviewed by the Investigator and/or of the other party. Any such questions shall be posed in the presence of the Investigator. The questions shall be relevant to the matter under investigation.

The questions may be asked by the person accompanying the member if the party is accompanied. Only one person may ask questions, either the party or the person accompanying him/her, but not both. The Investigator shall rule on the relevance of the questions and any other procedural issues which may arise.

1.26. The Investigator shall provide a factual report of the results of the investigation to the General Secretary on the complaint which shall set out the facts established in the investigation ("Investigator's Report"). This report shall be produced within 60 working days of the appointment of the Investigator. If the Investigator is not in a position to do so in that time, the Investigator shall issue an explanation to the Disciplinary Committee, which shall be conveyed to the parties by the General Secretary, or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose. The Disciplinary Committee shall meet to determine if more time should be allowed for the investigation to be concluded.

- 1.27. The Parties to the complaint shall each be provided with a copy of the Investigator's Report and invited to comment in writing on same. Any comments must be reported within 20 working days of receipt of the report.
- 1.28. The Disciplinary Committee shall be provided with a copy of the Investigator's Report and any comments made by the parties on same and shall meet no later than 20 working days after the receipt of any comments under 1.27 above.

DELIBERATIVE MEETING OF DISCIPLINARY COMMITTEE

- 1.29. The Investigator's Report shall be considered at a meeting of the Disciplinary Committee held for the purpose of determining whether, based on the facts established in that Investigator's Report, the complaint made can be upheld or not. The parties shall be entitled to attend at any part of such meeting as may be considered appropriate by the Committee, if they wish, in order to make a statement on the matter and, if necessary, to answer any questions which the Disciplinary Committee may wish to pose. In the event that both parties wish to attend the meeting, they shall attend separately.
- 1.30. Having regard to the complaint, the Investigator's Report, the comments of the parties on same (whether in writing or in person before the Disciplinary Committee) and any other statements made by the parties (whether in writing or in person before the Disciplinary Committee), the Disciplinary Committee shall determine:
- whether the action or activity complained of has taken place;
 - if so, whether that action or activity is a breach of the Rules of the Union or is otherwise conduct injurious to the interests of the Union or its members; an
 - if so, what penalty should be imposed on the member found guilty of same?

PENALTIES WHICH MAY BE IMPOSED

- 1.31. A respondent against whom a complaint is upheld may be:
- debarred from attending Union meetings indefinitely or for a period to be decided; and/or
 - debarred from participating in any way in Branch or Union administration indefinitely or for a period of time to be decided; or
 - subjected to financial penalties not to exceed twice the member's annual subscription or
 - formally censured by letter. Any such censure may be made known to the Disciplinary Committee in any future disciplinary case involving the person or Branch concerned
 - expelled from membership.

(Note) A person whose membership is suspended shall not be relieved of any duties imposed by these Rules (including liability to pay the Union subscription) but shall not be entitled to take part in the affairs of the Union or to hold any office in the Union.

In the event of a member being debarred from attending meetings or from holding office, their Branch shall be notified.

- 1.32. The General Secretary, or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose, shall convey the decisions of the Disciplinary Committee under either or both of the two preceding paragraphs to the complainant(s) and the respondent(s) within 5 working days of the decision, save in exceptional circumstances.
- 1.33. In advising a member against whom a complaint has been upheld of this fact and the penalty imposed by the Disciplinary Committee, the General Secretary, or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose, shall advise the member of his/her right of appeal and shall state the latest date for receipt of the notice of appeal. The latest date for receipt of appeal shall be 20 working days after the notification of the outcome.

APPEAL AGAINST A DECISION OF THE DISCIPLINARY COMMITTEE

- 1.34. Where a member has been found guilty of a breach of the Rules of the Union or of conduct injurious to the interests of the Union or its members, he/she may give notice that he/she wishes to appeal against the decision of the Disciplinary Committee by sending notice of such appeal to the General Secretary, or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose, within 20 working days of the issue of the notification specified in the preceding paragraph.
- 1.35. In the event of an appeal, it shall be made to an external party in accordance with the following arrangements:
- the external person should be agreed between the Disciplinary Committee and the appellant within 15 working days of notification received from the appellant that he/she wishes to appeal the decision of the Disciplinary Committee,
 - in the event of failure to agree on a suitable person, the General Secretary of the Irish Congress of Trade Unions will be asked to nominate a suitable party to determine the appeal, within 15 working days of the failure to reach agreement
 - the person appointed shall convene a hearing within 20 working days of their appointment. If they are unable to do so, they shall advise the General Secretary, or an officer appointed by the General Secretary for this purpose, who shall advise the Disciplinary Committee and the appellant. In such case, either the committee or the appellant can seek to have an alternative appointed to hear the appeal, in accordance with the provisions of this section, as set out above.
 - the appeal will be solely to determine whether the decision of the Disciplinary Committee to uphold the complaint(s) against the appellant was warranted or not and, if so, whether the penalty imposed was appropriate or not;
 - the appellant and the Disciplinary Committee should prepare written submissions which should be provided to the person conducting the appeal at least 5 working days in advance of the date of the appeal hearing and, also, to each other at the same time;

- the person conducting the appeal should meet with the appellant (and a friend or colleague of his/her choice, if he/she wishes to be accompanied) and Disciplinary Committee Representatives (not more than two people) in joint session to hear the arguments of both sides,
- the terms of reference of the person conducting the appeal is whether he/she can uphold a decision of the Disciplinary Committee or take such other decisions as may be considered suitable in all the circumstances;
- other than as stated in this Annex, the person conducting the appeal shall determine his/her own procedures for conducting the appeal; but shall in any event, save in exceptional circumstances, issue a determination within 30 working days of the meeting with the appellant
- if the person conducting the appeal is unable to issue a determination in the time frame allowed, they should notify the appellant and should state the reasons
- the person conducting the appeal should issue his/her determination on the matter in writing to the appellant, the Disciplinary Committee and the original complainant
- this determination shall be final and binding on all parties within the procedures of the union but does not preclude any party exercising their legal right to external due process.

PROCEDURES PROMULGATED BY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

- 1.36. The Executive Committee shall be empowered to prepare procedures for the implementation of the details of this Rule which shall be published in the Annual Report of the Executive Committee and made available to members on request. These procedures shall also be supplied to the parties to any complaint. The Executive Committee shall have the power to amend, or suspend, the procedures from time to time as the Executive Committee may, in its sole discretion, consider appropriate.

1.37. In the event of any inconsistency between this Annex and the terms of any procedures for its implementation, the provisions of this Annex shall apply.

VEXATIOUS COMPLAINTS

1.38. The provisions of the procedure may be applied in full in respect of a complaint that a previous complaint was, itself, vexatious.
