

#RespectforSNAs

Twitter campaign messages

The government has rejected SNAs call for a higher minimum standard of qualification. In September @forsa-trade_union will launch a nationwide campaign for greater respect and recognition for all SNAs. Please stand with us. Share this message and follow us for updates about the launch of this important campaign. #RespectforSNAs

We reject the government's refusal to recognise SNAs call for a higher minimum standard of qualification. We are calling on all parents, principals and teachers to stand with SNAs by supporting a new national campaign for greater respect and recognition for all SNAs. Please stand with us by sharing this message. #RespectforSNAs

It's time to recognise and respect the vital work of SNAs. @forsa_trade_union are calling on parents, principals, teachers and all school staff to stand with SNAs by supporting a new national campaign in support of higher minimum standards of qualification for all SNAs. Please stand with us. #RespectforSNAs

Facebook campaign message

The government has rejected SNAs call for a higher minimum standard of qualification.

Fórsa trade union strongly rejects the government's refusal to recognise the pressing need for this simple but long overdue reform.

So, we are now calling on all SNAs, teachers, principals, parents and their public representatives to stand together in support of a new nationwide campaign for greater respect and recognition for all SNAs.

This major new campaign will be launch in September at the start of the new school year. Updates about the campaign will be shared over the next few weeks.

Until then we are asking SNAs, teachers, principals and parents to stand with us by sharing this message and working with us to help build a nationwide coalition of support for SNAs.

It's time to give SNAs the respect and recognition they deserve.

#RespectforSNAs